PREFACE.

In this little volume, the author has attempted to collect and compile a chronological list of the names of the Shock families that are descendants of Adam Shock, whose parents, it seems, emigrated from Germany to Pennsylvania about the middle of the 18th century.

1973451

The task was no small one, and in many cases the lists are incomplete, due to a lack of interest on the part of those in possession of the information that would have made many of the partial lists complete.

It was from my father, Henry Shock, that I gathered my first information concerning the Shock family in general. Uriah Shock compiled all the information concerning the Jacob Shock family. Ezra F. Shock was always helpful, and L. A. Bookwalter rendered valuable aid in my getting into communication with the families that live in Ohio. Besides those mentioned, there were many others who responded promptly to all communications and gave complete information concerning their branches of the family.

LaFayette, Ind. Jos. H. Shock.

EXPLANATIONS.

b. = born.
m. = married.
d. = dead or died.

The figure and letter before each of the names have a particular meaning. The figure indicates the person's position in respect to age in his father's family. The letter indicates his generation starting with Adam Shock as the first. His children comprise the second generation and his grand-children the third generation. For example, on page 1—2d before Uriah Shock's name means that he was the second in the family and belongs to the 4th generation of Shocks, beginning with Adam as the first. 1c before David Shock's name means that he was the oldest of Jacob Shock's children and belongs to the third generation. The figure does not always indicate the proper position in a family because in some cases the information is not full enough to tell exactly what the correct order is. The letter "a" is used but once—with the name of Adam Shock, the most remote Shock of whom any information could be gotten. The letter "b" is used thirteen times—once with each of the children of Adam. His immediate family are all dead. Very little can be learned concerning some of them—no doubt due to the fact that we have not come into communication with the proper people. The following is a list of the ones belonging to the second generation, with the dates of birth and death attached in the cases where it is known:

1b Jacob Shock .....1789-1869
2b Daniel .....1797-1803
3b David .....1795-1872
4b Martin .....1803-1868
5b Adam .....1807-1892
6b Barbary (Frantz) .....1809-1876
7b John .....1818-1900

10b Nancy (Leighty).....
11b Lucy (Biset)(Ikenberry)...
12b Elizabeth .....1813-1900
13b Michael .....1811-

The third generation numbers about eighty in all, and is indicated by the letter "c."

FAMILY REUNIONS.

In August of 1908 Ezra F. Shock assumed the responsibility of a family reunion. He invited the Shocks in general and those of whom he knew in particular, to spend a day at his home, five miles north of Huntington, Indiana, the latter part of August, 1908, for the purpose of renewing old, and of making new, acquaintances within the relationship. About one hundred and fifty responded to the invitation, coming principally from the vicinities of Huntington and North Manchester, Indiana.

A lawn dinner was served and a short literary program closed the day's festivities.

After some consultation amongst the most active of those present it was decided to make the reunion a yearly festival and thereupon officers were elected for the ensuing year and a permanent organization was effected. The officers elected were:

Ezra F. Shock, Pres., .....Huntington, Ind.
Uriah Shock, Vice-Pres., North Manchester, Ind.
Wm. A. Shock, Sec.....Huntington, Ind.
Susie Shock, Cor. Sec., North Manchester, Ind.
John H. Shock, Treas. .....Huntington, Ind.

The reunion of 1909 was held at North Manchester, Indiana, in a beautiful grove on the North Manchester fair grounds. Through the untiring efforts of Uriah Shock the meeting was successful in every way. The number in attendance was two hundred five. Those in attendance came from Huntington, Kosciusko, Wabash and Madison counties, thus bringing together a wide range of families.

The reunion of 1910 was held at Mounds Park, Anderson, Indiana, in the special charge of Peter Shock, of that city. Besides those attending the previous meetings, a number from Ohio were in attendance, thus extending the range of acquaintance still farther. The meeting for 1911 is appointed to be held in Huntington, Indiana.
